Dear Robyn Benken.

Thank you for your letter.

I do not use e-mail (out of self-defence) nor do I patronise Twitter, Facebook or any of other modern means of mass communication. Once one reaches one's late eighties, it is difficult to change life-long habits. However, if you care to say in any of your public statements that I think Weedy Sea-dragons are among the most astounding, beautiful and beguiling creatures on earth, then by all means do so.

Yours sincerely
David Attenborough
